Lawn Visits for FPC Families!

During the week of February 14-17, families at FPC can sign up for an afternoon or early evening time to get a fun campfire lawn visit. We will make s’mores, sing a campfire song and tell a story. We will bring the campfire with us (it is small and portable), as well as everything necessary to make a s’more and have some fun right on your front lawn. All you need to do is have a chair or blanket to sit on. Sign ups have been emailed to families on our list. IF you don’t receive the email and would like to have a lawn visit, please email: christy@oldfirstchurch.org.

See you on the lawn!!

Nothing could be S’more fun!

Presbyterian Women Winter Gathering on Zoom February 20
after church and after lunch 2pm - 3:30
Special Speaker Rev. Susan Gage
Music by Carla and Tim Connor
I’ve come to learn that one of the features of Tallahassee life is the occasional long layover in the Atlanta airport. On Saturday, with about two hours to kill on my return from a Board of Pensions meeting, I camped out at a table in a remote corner of the terminal and plowed my way through this week’s reading for the Bible Survey, the prophet Isaiah.

After a while, I realized that an elderly couple sitting near me were observing me with interest. Eventually, the woman patted my arm, leaned over, and said, “That’s my favorite book!”

“The prophet Isaiah?” I asked. “Me, too!”

“No,” she said, “I mean the Bible. All of it. It’s my favorite book.” They were getting up from their table and preparing to leave. The man said, “Blessed travels to you.”

I thanked them and wished them the same. But I wish I’d had time to engage them in conversation. When she said that the Bible was her favorite book, what did the woman mean? My assumption was that she was saying it as short-hand—that they were finding ways to signal to me, “Hey, we’re Christians, too!” the way that Christians in the Roman empire used the ichthys symbol—a representation of a fish.

But what I really wanted to say to them was, “I love the Bible, too—I find it fascinating and compelling and expansive and strange. But what do you do with the hard stuff? What do you do with the passages about slavery? The rape scene in the book of Judges? The expulsion of the Canaanites? The violence and brutality of life?”

It’s not enough to simply assign these parts to the Old Testament and say that Christ abrogated all of that. As Stan Williams pointed out in our Wednesday night Bible survey, the New Testament is full of that stuff, too (he made this comment as an invitation to our Sunday morning Inquirers’ class on “The Difficult Sayings of Jesus.”)
Between these programs and the PW study on Matthew’s Genealogy, this congregation has been immersed, this year, in exploring some of the tougher passages of scripture. One of the biggest costs of such a project is a loss of innocence about what the Bible actually contains. If we never read the Bible, it’s easy for us to assume that we’ve got the Bible on our side—that its content will support our point of view. We tend to pin this kind of uninformed proof-texting on conservative “Bible thumpers,” but progressives can be guilty of this, too—picking and choosing passages to support our points of view. The other day at the dog park, a man remarked, referring to those who oppose LGBT inclusion in the church, “I don’t know where in the Bible it says to love some people but not others!” Having just finished the books of Ezra and Nehemiah, I could have pointed to the passages where foreign-born wives and children were expelled from the community.

It’s frustrating, disheartening, disenchainting to open our sacred text and find in it things we don’t want to hear—not just things that are uncomfortable, but things that cause harm. And yet as Christian’s we’re called to study scripture—to immerse ourselves in the Bible. Why?

In scripture we receive what we’ve been given. This may sound strange, but in culture where we’re getting increasingly polarized, scripture gives us the perspectives from a number of different news feeds, rather than a single, biased source. By reading scripture in our own communities, we can work together through the texts that are difficult; we can seek the Spirit’s guidance to aid our understanding; we can live out the word in the community of Christ. For example, as Presbyterians we’re called to read scripture through the “rule of faith and love,” which means we give less credence to passages like the expulsion of foreign wives from Ezra and Nehemiah than we do to Micah’s command to “do justice, love kindness, and walk humbly with your God.” And by reading scripture with other communities—with people who don’t think or act or vote like us—we can at least meet on common ground, working together through this strange and often inconvenient text that is the bearer of our shared tradition.
The last three years have taught us more about finding hope and being resilient in the face of the chaos of the world. This coming season of Lent, we invite you to join us in finding ways to be still, to search for hope and to renew faith. Even in the mess of this world, we recognize God with us. Blessings in the midst of mess.

Lenten Volunteer Opportunity at Second Harvest’s Warehouse:

Thursdays from 9-Noon March 3, 17, 31 and April 7. Older children and youth are welcome during the week of Spring Break. We need 4-8 volunteers each time. Volunteer by emailing christy@oldfirstchurch.org.

Midday Moments of Grace & Peace in the sanctuary of FPC on Tuesdays at 12:15 p.m. Tuesday March 8, 15, 22, 29 and April 5. All are welcome to join us for prayer, reflection, song and stillness. We will provide space for a brown bag lunch in the courtyard (weather permitting) or the Westminster Room following the service.

Mark your calendar for our 3:00 p.m. March 6 Lenten Wilderness Hike with Allie Snyder and Lucas Heiker. Location TBD.
February is fast approaching as the Care Team is planning our annual Agape Love Fest (formerly, pre-COVID, a potluck Feast!) Our theme this year is once again "Hearts Together" and will involve reaching out to our beloved children and our members at Westminster Oaks and other homes with Agape bags and love tokens of our appreciation and care.

For our community, we reached out to Grace Mission who requested men's underwear which is in short supply! More information will be coming, but you can begin shopping for these sizes of Men's Underwear in order of lowest to highest need:

- 34 waist or Medium
- XXL
- 40 waist or XL
- 36, 38 waist or Large

2 Bonus items requested:
- New/Used Men's jeans same sizes as above
- Powdered Gatorade packets or Gatorade or electrolyte/hydration type drinks.

This request was related to many who have been recovering in place from illness recently. (Water bottles are already available to those who are homeless.)

Lastly, checks to Grace Mission are always welcome!

The collection will happen on February 13th either at church if you come for the in-person service or our fabulous Youth Group will host a "drive by/ drop off" collection between 4-5 p.m.
Nursery and Preschool Childcare

Sitters from Twinkle Toes Childcare agency are staffing our nursery. These sitters are all: background checked, CPR/First Aid trained and vaccinated. Two additional sitters from Twinkle Toes staff the Preschool class.

When we are in-person for church school, 9:15 - Noon, Twinkle Toes sitters will be in the building ready to care for infants through two-years-old in the church nursery. Children aged three - pre-K will be in the preschool class and will be greeted by additional Twinkle Toes sitters.

Did you know...We have two separate prayer ministries, and invite you to participate in either, or both. You are not limited to asking for prayers for yourself, but when the prayer requests involve another individual, please get permission from the person concerned before submitting his or her name. To have a prayer concern read aloud during worship, please call the office during the week (850-222-4504), and Lori will ensure that your request is relayed to both Margaret and the Care and Outreach Team. You can also email Margaret directly at Margaret@oldfirstchurch.org. You may also indicate whether the request should be repeated from week to week.

In addition to prayers read during worship, you can contact Debbie Gibson (gibsond1207@gmail.com) to be placed on a list shared with a group that has covenanted to pray for specific requests. Once Debbie knows of a need, it will be relayed to the prayer chain for the volunteers in that ministry to hold up the specific concerns or celebrations in prayer for as long as is needed. Prayers requested through Debbie will not be read during worship unless you ask for that to happen as well.
Healing Racism Task Force

This group of First Presbyterians meets monthly to work on policies/statements, plan events and classes and explore ways to assist our congregation in promoting racial justice in our church, community and country. We suggest books for the monthly Book Group, we also work on liturgy to be used in special services or meetings.

If you would like to be part of our task force, please contact Deborah Whisnant or Christy Williams: christy@oldfirstchurch.org.

Next meeting is 10:00 a.m. on Tuesday, Feb. 15, 2022 on ZOOM.
What do we make of Jesus’s encounter with a Gentile woman who was desperate for a miracle (Matthew 15:21-28)?

Why did Jesus command his disciples to restrict their evangelism to “the lost sheep of the house of Israel.”

Whom do we regard as worthy of our time, attention and care?

What are the benefits and problems of universalism? What are the benefits and problems of particularity?

Meet and greet: Sunday at 9:15 AM
Program starts: Sunday at 9:30 AM

Everyone is welcome to the Westminster Room OR you can connect to the “hybrid” class on ZOOM.

This week we continue our DVD study series with Professor Amy-Jill Levine titled, “The Difficult Words of Jesus.” (trailer). Erin Rosica will lead the fourth of six sessions, "Nowhere among the Gentiles."

- What do we make of Jesus’s encounter with a Gentile woman who was desperate for a miracle (Matthew 15:21-28)?
- Why did Jesus command his disciples to restrict their evangelism to “the lost sheep of the house of Israel.”
- Whom do we regard as worthy of our time, attention and care?
- What are the benefits and problems of universalism? What are the benefits and problems of particularity?

All are welcome! Each Zoom meeting opens new opportunities to learn and share — whether you've attended previously or not.

As in worship, for your safety and as a courtesy to others, we ask all who attend in person to wear masks, respect social distance and, if eligible, be fully vaccinated.

Our program begins promptly at 9:30 AM and ends by 10:30 AM. After class, those who meet in person can enjoy coffee and fellowship in the courtyard before worship at 11:00 AM.

Be on the lookout for John's Thursday afternoon email with the week's topic, background reading, and Zoom link for connecting online. If you have not been getting the Thursday emails, please contact office@oldfirstchurch.org so we can get you on the list.
Note the time change!
From 4-5 we will be participating in the donation drive of underwear for Grace Mission. From 5-6 we will be enjoying snacks and some Valentine fun.

Mental Health Book Group: Books were distributed last night – let me know if you need one. Our youth group has been asked to participate in a Youth Mental Health book group on zoom on Weds, March 23 at 7 p.m. Copies of the book have been ordered for each person in our youth group. The book deals with LGBTQIA+ issues and suicide. It is called The Visitors: A heartwarming tale of friendship, hard-won truths, and the healing power of forgiveness by Greg Howard. This will be for PCUSA youth in the southeast.

On February 24 at 7 p.m. we will discuss Anxious People by Fredrik Bachman. Peggy Wright Cleveland will be our guest facilitator!! There is one more book for February’s book group in the office for loan, but books can be purchased at Midtown Reader (remember to mention you are part of FPC’s book group and get a 10% discount) as well as online. Prior to the book group gathering, questions for reflection will be emailed out to the group. If you are interested in participating, email: christy@oldfirstchurch.org.org
Holy scripture teaches us that God created humankind in god’s own image. Christ calls us to love God, with all our mind, soul, and heart, and our neighbor as ourselves. With this comes the sacred responsibility to treat each human being with the love and respect due to a child of God.

We acknowledge the long history of systemic racism that, through violence, laws, policies, and their implementation, was intended to exclude persons who are not Caucasian from benefits and opportunities - from the first European settlers who considered themselves entitled to land and violently displaced indigenous people from their homes, to the equally long history of slavery which built the wealth of this country, to Jim Crow laws to current instances of police brutality and the overwhelming mass incarceration of people of color.

We declare ourselves utterly opposed to all forms of systemic racism. We are committed to standing with those who find themselves on the receiving end of any form of racism. We will seek out opportunities to oppose all forms of systematic racism and to ensure that black lives matter, as do those of indigenous, Asian, and Latinx people and persons of all colors or countries of origin.

Our faith tells us that we can do no less, if we truly affirm that all human beings are made in god’s image.

We dream of a day in which all persons are treated as bearers of that image.

Dear Friends,

On February 24, 2022, Greenfaith is inviting people of faith around the world to learn more about how financial industries have authorized and supported the climate’s destruction by investing in the fossil fuel industry, and how to hold asset managers and banks accountable. The event will be entirely on Zoom at a time yet to be determined. To participate or to learn more about Greenfaith and this campaign, please click here: https://actionnetwork.org/forms/multi-faith-climate-finance-campaign-launch?source=email

Thanks.
